I arrived and was met by a female and male I knew from previous WHPS contacts as Jeffrey Hardin and Chandra Brouelette who live together in Chandra's house.  Jeffrey was reporting being hit in the head by something and waking up at the bottom of the stairs.  Jeffrey did not know what hit him, would not directly say that Chandra hit him with something, but I believed that is what he thought happened.  Chandra reported that she was confronted in her bedroom by Jeffrey saying she took his cell phone, he would not leave her alone and she flung a bag of batteries at him, hitting him in the center of the back, not in the head.  Chandra stated that Jeffrey then laid on the floor at the bottom of the stairs for about 10 minutes before getting up.  Chandra had video showing this occurred at 1240 hours.  Jeffrey was initially evaluated by me and later again by North EMS who also did not find any injury to his head .  Jeffrey chose to not be transported to the ER.  Jeffrey and Chandra have a lengthy history of living arrangement disagreements about Jeffrey living in Chandra's house.  Chandra decided it was best to go stay with her father for the night, though she was fearful that Jeffrey would damage her belongings.

Chandra was fearful of her safety if she was to stay in the home and Jeffrey had somehow lost his phone since calling 911 and believed she stole it again.

I found there to be no basis for any charges/arrest with today's incident.

Reports to be forward to the Embedded Social Worker with use of the ESW Form.

On 01-14-2024 at 1603 hours I was dispatched to 1647 Marsh Ave for a male reporting he was struck in the head and fell down some stairs and did not know how it happened. I arrived and was met by a female and male I knew from previous WHPS contacts as Jeffrey Hardin and Chandra Brouelette who live together in Chandra's house. Jeffrey was reporting being hit in the head by something and waking up at the bottom of the stairs. Jeffrey did not know what hit him, would not directly say that Chandra hit him with something, but I believed that is what he thought happened. Jeffrey stated that he thought Chandra had taken his phone when this occurred, and he confronted her to which Chandra denied taking the phone. Jeffrey stated that he had to find his phone before he could call 911, which is why it took him over three hours. Jeffrey stated that she also knocked a bowl of yogurt out of his hand, flinging it all over both of them.

I checked Jeffrey's head and did not find any lacerations or even bumps to show he was hit with something. Jeffrey told us that he was not feeling pain anywhere else and nothing that would be consistent with falling down some stairs. Jeffrey was evaluated by North EMS who also did not find any injury to his head. Jeffrey chose to not be transported to the ER.

Chandra had video of this accusation occurring and the timestamp showed that it occurred around 1240 hours. Chandra stated that Jeffrey had come to her bedroom where she was lying in bed and whipped the covered back demanding his phone. Jeffrey was accusing Chandra of taking his phone and she did not have it. Chandra stated that they argued back and forth, and she began to video tape him refusing to leave her room. Chandra stated that she did fling a bag of batteries off the banister of the stairs at Jeffrey hitting him in the center of his back, not his head, when he refused to leave her room.

Jeffrey and Chandra have a lengthy history of living arrangement disagreements about Jeffrey living in Chandra's house. Jeffrey told us today that he had already agreed to move out in the first three weeks of January.

Chandra's father, Thomas came to the home, and I listened to the three argue it out in a mildly heated manner, keeping it civil for the most part, with me there for quite some time. Chandra decided it was best to go stay with her father for the night, though she was fearful that Jeffrey would damage her belongings. Chandra was fearful of her safety if she was to stay in the home and Jeffrey had somehow lost his phone since calling 911 and believed she stole it again.

I found there to be no basis for any charges/arrest with today's incident.

Reports to be forward to the Embedded Social Worker with use of the ESW Form.
